

The FARM TRIBUNE

Vol. XV - No. 49 PUBLISHED WEEKLY — PORTERVILLE, CALIFORNIA Thurs., May 24, 1962

HERE AND THERE AT THE FAIR

VIC CHILD, Vandalia 4-H, produced a double win in the 1962 Porterville fair, showing both the grand champion fat lamb and the grand champion fat barrow. Both animals were purchased by Guarantee Savings & Loan association of Visalia, represented by Loren Schmid, of Porterville, shown with Child. The barrow brought $2.50 a pound, the lamb, $1.50. Carcasses will be hanging at the Bellevue market for benefit of 4-H club members and Future Farmers who want to see what champions look like on the hook; the meat will then be sold to the public at the market. (Farm Tribune photos)

NEW FEATURE at the 1962 Porterville fair was a Cutting Horse contest that created considerable spectator interest and shapes up as a popular annual event for the fair's program. Photos show the crowd that watched the show, along with two scenes in the new arena built for this, and other fair events. (Farm Tribune photos)

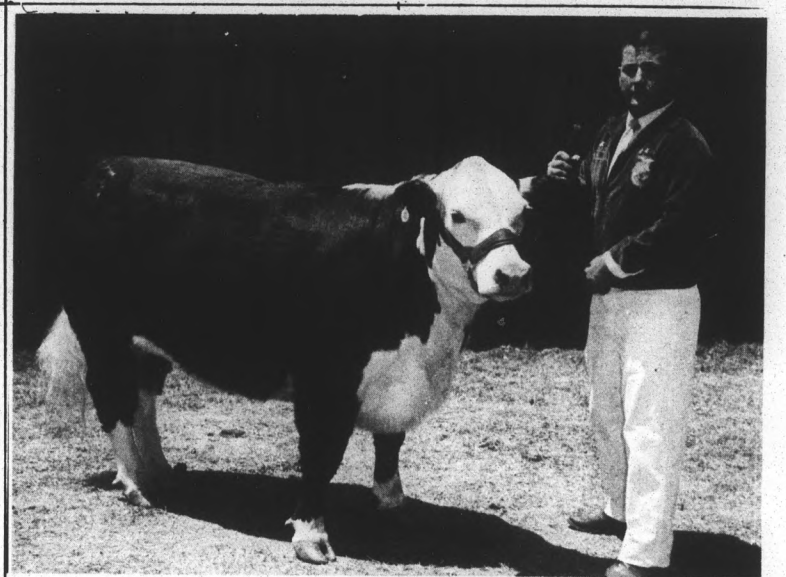

THE PORTERVILLE FAIR IN PICTURES

Rather than to try to cover in words the results of the 1962 Porterville fair, we are presenting in this issue of The Farm Tribune, a camera view of the fair.

Even with nearly 90 photographs we have not covered it all, but we hope that we have created pleasant recollections for those persons who attend the fair, and for those who did not, perhaps we have created some idea of what the Porterville fair is.

Our thanks go to Hammond studio and Edwards studio for use of their pictures as well as our own.

BILL MCGIVERN, Strathmore Future Farmer, with his reserve champion fat steer of the Porterville Fair.

REED HASTINGS, of Hastings Equipment Co., left, hosted junior exhibitors at second annual livestock exhibitors' banquet, Saturday night; Wally Erickson, noted KFRE, Fresno, farm newsman, served as MC.

ANNUAL SALE of Memorial Poppies to benefit needy, and disabled, war veterans, and to also honor the memory of those who gave their lives in defense of America, will be conducted Friday and Saturday, May 24 and 25, in Porterville, under auspices of the Auxiliary units of Post 20, The American Legion, and Post 2001, Veterans of Foreign Wars. In above photo, Porterville City Manager Bob Rogers, buys the first poppy from Elva Crusenberry, left, chairman of the VFW Auxiliary committee, and Toni Faure, Legion Auxiliary chairman.

Our Town

By GARDNER WHEELER

THE FAIR AS SEEN FROM INSIDE THE ORANGE JUICE BOOTH

NORMALCY HAS ONCE again returned to our town, following the whirlwind of the annual Junior Fair and Livestock Show. Reams of copy rolled off the press both preceding and during the Fair, extolling its virtues and wonders. Some of these prose flights were so ecstatic that I was afraid that the Seattle Century of Progress people might fold up their medicine show and join forces with the Porterville group. After all, our Fair is one of the few that is way out in left field — literally.

AN AFFAIR LIKE A FAIR is all things to all people. Your correspondent viewed the action from the northeast corner of the orange juice booth located in the northeast corner of the display area. This spot had a high strategic value for anyone addicted to northeast exposures. It wasn't easy to gain this spot of vantage and only the most cunning footwork on the part of your correspondent made it possible.

FIRST, I PAID THE princely sum of one and one-half inflated dollars to get in the gate. Now the payment of this tariff usually insures an evening of entertainment, frolicking among the kine and swine of both the human and animal variety. All it insured me was six hours of hard labor in an orange juice booth. Of course, the longer I worked, the cheaper the price of admission for the privilege.

I SQUEEZED ENOUGH ORANGE juice to float the Normandie. Unquestionably, the people of Porterville drank enough orange juice at the Fair to keep them in Vitamin C for a whole year. What a parched bunch of camels. Well, I squeezed juice till I was blue in the face, which made a real fascinating color combination with the orange. As if this wasn't enough, I had to listen to the witty comments of the passers-by; most of them lifted from Joe Miller's joke book.

OCCASIONALLY I STOPPED to readjust a dislocated finger or two which gave me the opportunity to view the surroundings and the customers. There were roughly four classes of the latter: the teen-agers, the young youngsters, their parents and the unidentifiables. The teenagers were having a riotous good time, judged by teen-age standards. Many couples am-locked and leaning one on the other, and beardless youths throwing water, hay and other handy ammunition at teen-age, squealing girls. Then the youngsters who were chronically hungry. They were either getting lost or screeching for food. Their parents were either hunting for them or feeding them. The unidentifiables furnished the background for these antics.

IN SPITE OF ALL, the stock got judged and sold. Hundreds looked at the displays, and the acrobats definitely did not fall from their 120 foot pole. All lost children were found, and by Sunday evening, left field was turned back to the peaceful pursuits of baseball. This Fair happens once a year. As far as we are concerned, that is fair enough!

JUVENILE BOOKS ALSO INTEREST ADULTS

You will find a new slant on the frontier story in MR. MYSTERIOUS AND COMPANY by Sid Fleischman. The Hackett family set out in their covered wagon to bring cheer to westerners with their marvelous magic show. How the family freights away attacking Indians, captures an infamous outlaw and makes friends with people and animals add excitement to this very original tale. Excellent and delightful characterizations make this rollicking story refreshingly different.

THE TWO WORLDS OF DAVY BLOUNT by Thelma Harrington Bell are the worlds of the North Carolina seacoast and the Blue Ridge Mountain country. Davy Blount, who lives on the coast and loves his fishing community home, visits the mountains one summer and finds his lively cousin's mountain farm is equally exciting. This contemporary story makes good reading.

Present day New England is the setting for ACROSS FROM INDIAN SHORE by Barbara Robinson. Luke's brother and widowed mother need his help to prepare for winter, but the lure of surrounding woods and an aging Indian princess across the lake is often too great. Luke always seems to be in trouble because he spends so much time rambling off by himself dreaming of Indians, exploring caves or just lying on his back looking up through the trees. Boys will find themselves much in sympathy with Luke.

Farley Mowat has written a story based on incidents from his own boyhood in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. OWLS IN THE FAMILY is an entertaining and skillfully written story of Wol and Weeps, the owls which are the family pets, and frequently turn the household upside down. This is a book rich in humor and in affection for animals and the outdoors. It will be enjoyed by many adults as well as children.

These books are now on the shelves of the Porterville library.

In an emergency, the value of medicine can hardly be reckoned in dollars. Medicine is priceless when needed.

Yet it is an interesting fact that nationally the average cost of a pharmaceutical prescription is about $2.50 — and more than half of all prescriptions cost less than $2.00. Although higher than 20 years ago, the increase in the cost of medicine lags far behind that of other, and less essential, commodities.

When you purchase a prescription, you are sharing in the fruits of scientific research. You are getting today's best buy.

TIME CLOCK

...for more than thirty electric "servants" who work for you at an hourly cost 21% lower than in 1939

See those hands up there? They measure the kilowatt hours of electricity it takes to run the more than thirty electric appliances that serve the average California family. (A kilowatt hour of electricity will keep a 100-watt bulb lighted for 10 hours.)

What's so remarkable about a kilowatt hour? Nothing, unless you care how much you spend for things, as most of us do.

The average cost of electricity per kilowatt hour for Edison residential customers is 21% lower than in 1939.

Sure, your electric bill is higher now. That's because you are using more than twice as much electricity as you were in 1939. But your average cost per kilowatt hour is 21% lower.

The reason: more efficient methods of producing and delivering electricity, plus greater usage, have lowered your unit cost. The electric industry continues to lead in the research to find new ways to produce and use electricity. And logically so. Electricity is our business.

This research will continue to increase our efficiencies. As it does, Edison will continue to bring you an abundant, dependable supply of electricity at the lowest possible rates.

HOW'S YOUR PERSPECTIVE?

With all the churning, in recent weeks, over business, Government and the stock market, many investors, especially the newcomers, are finding the situation utterly confusing. Most contradictory are reports of improved business, increased sales, profits, and dividends while, at the same time, stock prices have deteriorated. Some get so involved in reading current activities and reports that all sight of the wonder of U. S. Industry is lost.

Check these items - Gross National Product . . . UP 58 per cent; National Income . . . UP 54 per cent; Wages and Salaries . . . UP 68 per cent; Corporate Profits . . . UP 9 per cent; Personal Consumption . . . UP 61 per cent; Personal Savings . . . UP 45 per cent. These figures represent the economic growth of our country during the past ten years.

During this same ten year period, there were many occasions for concern . . . business was up, business was down; prices were up, prices were down. Through it all, the turmoil that is to be found in a dynamic growing economy, the only thing found certain was that change was to occur. Some companies, some industries, prospered, some found the going difficult. But in spite of it all, a well managed investment handsomely profited from the underlying growth of our total economy.

This economic growth is continuing. We are earning more, buying more, consuming more, vacationing more. Industry is investing more in research and plant expansion anticipating the demands of the growing population of our country.

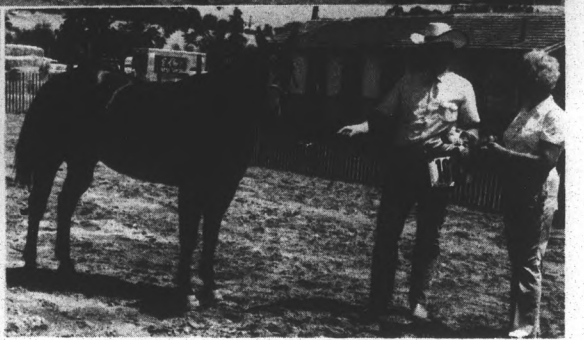

Many are now finding that the speculative investment, while truly exciting, is not always fruitful. Gains have been reduced or wiped out. Losses prevail. Help is needed. Many are now realizing that investment management is for professionals, not amateurs.

For professional investment management, investors are increasingly turning to Mutual Funds. Thus, they may preserve their investment money and still benefit in the growing economy that is ours. Don't lose your perspective. With the values now prevailing, NOW is the time to invest. Perhaps a Mutual Fund is your answer.

Resolution

A Resolution unanimously adopted at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Vandalia Irrigation District on May 8, 1962, memorializes that:

WHEREAS, the Vandalia Irrigation District, as well as all the people of the State, has lost a valued friend in the passing of State Senator J. Howard Williams, a man whose sincerity of purpose, dedication to office, and demonstrated legislative abilities will not soon be replaced, and

WHEREAS, his advice and support to the District in the same spirit of public service has marked his total efforts were and are most appreciated.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that in recognition of this regrettable loss of friend and statesman that this Resolution be spread upon the Minutes of the District, and that suitable copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the members of the Senator's family — Becky, wife; John Howard III, son; Mrs. Gloria MacCowell, daughter; Richard Williams and Phillip Williams, brothers; and Miss Helen Williams and Mrs. Margaret Jones, sisters.

We Only Heard

By Bill Rodgers

A FAIR is many things in total — boys, girls, parents, livestock, entertainment, exhibits, food and drink, pets, flowers, cars, tractors; and at Porterville the fair is something more than these physical things—it is work, pleasure, worry, enjoyment — it is a sort of a spirit within the community.

IT IS the latter point that makes the Porterville fair different than other fairs in California, for the Porterville fair is something that people of the community want; they don't want the fair given to them by professionals using money from some place called the state; but they want the fair badly enough to spend time and work to produce it on their own. That's why several hundred persons are involved in major and minor roles in connection with the fair; that's why the fair represents a spirit within the community.

AS FOR the 1962 fair, an impartial appraisal shows both improvement and a bit of backsliding. Certainly the fat stock was as good or better than ever — a real tribute to the 4-H club boys and girls, the Future Farmers, the parents and the club leaders. They just don't bring better cattle, hogs and sheep into any junior show ring in the West than those seen at Porterville.

COMMERCIAL EXHIBITS were somewhat disappointing this year. For some reason they seemed to lack the punch and color, in general, that they have had in other years. And the fair board slipped when it allowed completely vacant spaces to remain throughout the fair in the exhibit building. Outdoor exhibits were off somewhat in numbers.

BUT THERE were also really fine exhibits. And while the fair has many "old faithfuls" who do a good job in booth displays year after year, we believe that a special word should go to Dick and Irma's Ceramics exhibit. Dick and Irma Fletcher consistently do an excellent job, and this year their booth was again most beautiful. Incidentally, they started putting their display together at least three weeks before the fair opened. . . . Just as a word to the wise, may we suggest that businesses make their contacts right now for next year's fair; many suppliers of nationally-advertised items have tremendous fair displays if they are "booked" in time.

AS FOR the grandstand show—it seemed to play well — top professional acts, and some real lively antics by Sparky Noble and Darrel Schieler in their exhibition of tractor driving. Perhaps the show was a few minutes too long — but we can't help but believe it was well worth the $1.50 that adults paid to get through the gate.

THE GYMKHANA for teenagers, and pre-teenagers, is becoming a real hard-riding event, and competition gets tougher as the youngsters and their horses get better. This is an event that is worth seeing.

AND THE Cutting Horse show, coming into the fair for the first time this year, has real potential. Planning was started a little late this year, but there was surprising interest in this event. It should become a top feature of the fair.

ONCE AGAIN the Quarter Horse show brought in some of the West's top horses. This show is now well established in Porterville, and offers a fine attraction for those persons interested in this activity.

The Steer That Got No Ribbon

Unfortunately, there are only so many ribbons to be won at a livestock show. And these of course go to the best in each class. But sometimes being best, is merely a matter of a fraction of an inch. And certainly this is true at the Porterville Fair where the difference in quality between the animals at the top of the class and those at the bottom, is often no more than the thickness of the ribbon itself.

So, this year, we want to congratulate not only the winners, but the runners-up as well. In fact, in our book, you're all champions.

Fishing was very good on all forks of the Tule river this last weekend. The water has dropped some with the cooler weather and is very clear.

More nice size native trout are being taken this year than I have seen since before the 1955 flood. It's amazing how many nice brown trout are being caught on all forks. Worms, stream nymphs and spinners have been best.

Fly fishing is improving with the lower water, with wet flies still catching most of the fish. Every evening now there is a good hatch just before dusk, and if the water wasn't so fast, dry fly fishing would be very good.

Success lake, between Porterville and Springville now has nearly 30,000 acre feet of water, and is providing some very good fishing. Bass and catfish are still small, but sunfish and blue gill fishing is excellent. Many of these running over half a pound.

We have noticed that even with many wonderful new gadgets becoming available there is still a tendency to recall the good old days. For instance, we have had old fashioned beef stew, old fashioned marmalade, and old fashioned bread served with old fashioned hospitality during the past few days.

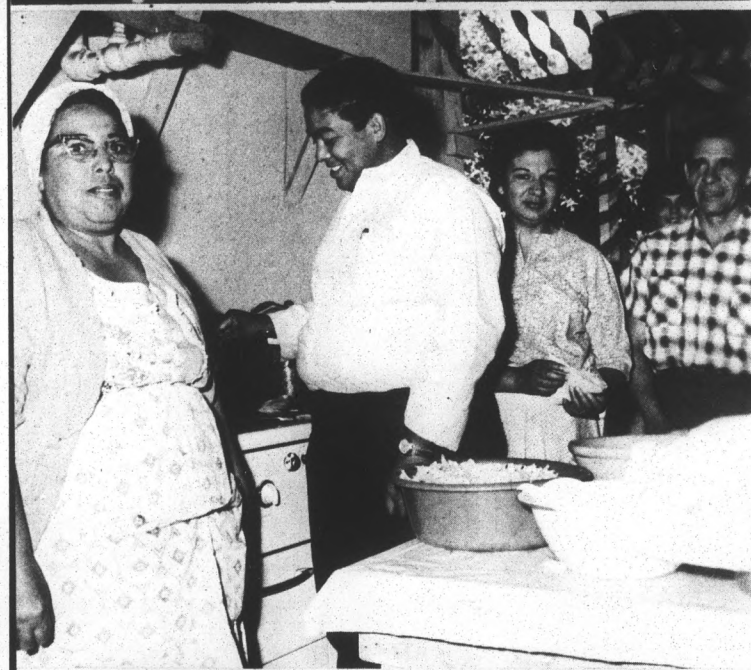

As a result we have been looking around to find what relics of the old days we have around here. We found quite a few among the shrubs, such as old fashioned lilacs, bridal wreath, wisteria, and even a Ginkgo tree which is of prehistoric time. However, they are far outnumbered by the newer things such as the modern mulberry which not only has no fruit but has maple leaves. Even snapdragons have gone modern along with petunias, zinnias, and marigolds.

We did find some old fashioned sprinklers amongst the dry goods with names that match their era. Who now would call their products owl eye, fountain, or shower? The newer ones are jet stream, full orbit, or oscillating. Some times they don't jet, orbit, or oscillate while old owl eye keeps spouting along, but they do look mighty pretty.

The garden cart has replaced the wheel barrow, plastic hose has replaced rubber, and weed killers have almost replaced the hoe. However, the gardener must still do his bit to outwit old fashioned aphids, moles, and gophers and we still dispense old fashioned advice so come along to "E" Street - Porterville.

OPENING OF a new arena this year on the fair grounds was a great aid to all of the horse events.

A REAL loss to the small youngsters was failure, at the last minute, of the planned-for kiddie rides. The situation this year was "just one of those unavoidable things", but the fair needs this attraction to round out its family-type entertainment.

FAT STOCK sale was "hotter than a firecracker", primarily because of work by a new committee that really rode the range prior to the sale — and of course a lot of local people jumped into "action at the auction" with the thing that really counts — money.

The DO-NUT HOUSE

We make do-nuts of all kinds and descriptions, we even cook the holes — we sell them wholesale or retail, with coffee or without, fresh every morning. We also serve a special noon luncheon.

SECOND ANNUAL banquet for junior livestock exhibitors (Reed Hastings picks up the tab on this one) moved real well this year; certainly Wally Erickson, of Fresno, pushed things along nicely as MC, and a newcomer to the fair — Bruce Ward, of Strathmore — should get an award himself for the way he set up and organized the handling of all special fair awards.

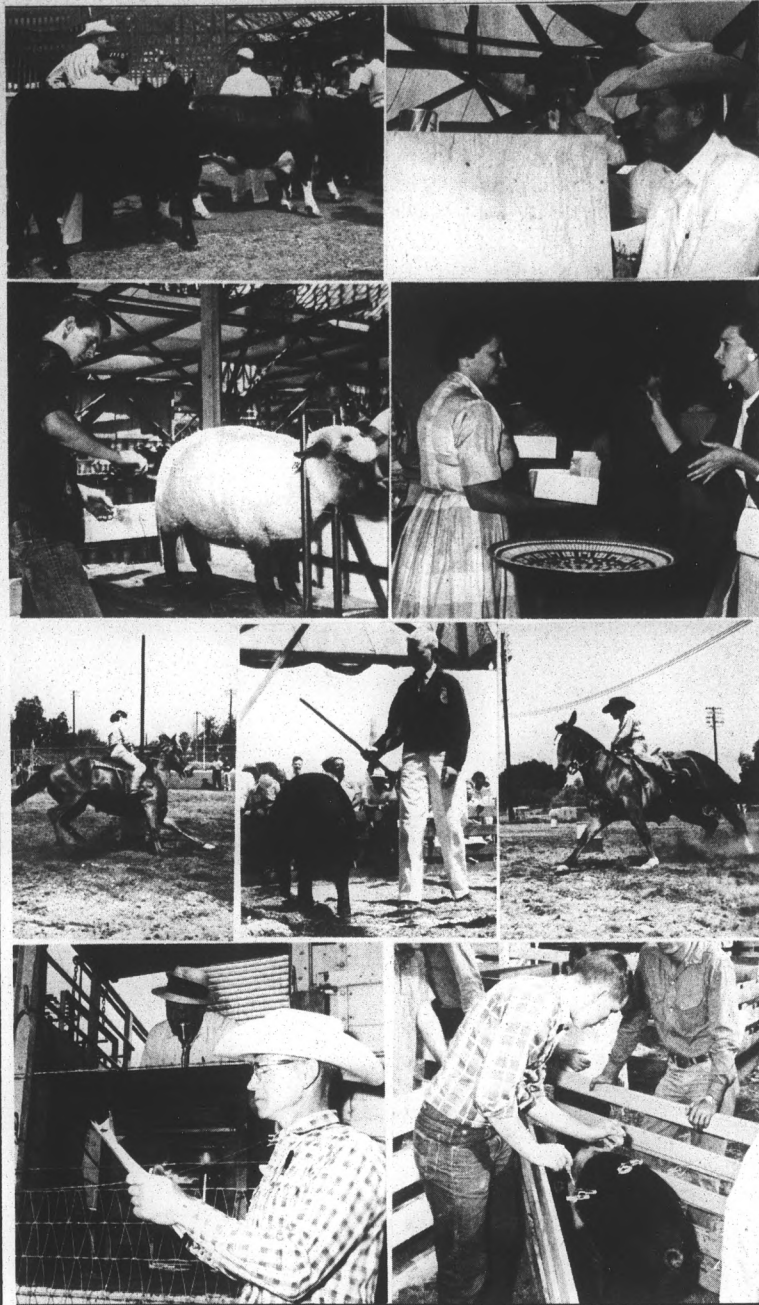

THERE WERE new and younger faces on fair committees this year, and that speaks well for the future. And there's still plenty of room for anyone who wants to work — just let your desires be known to Chairman Babe Hodgson.

HIGH AVERAGES

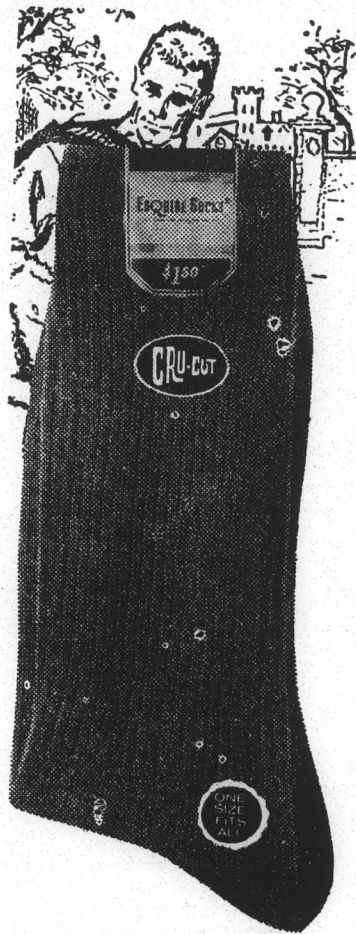

High averages marked the junior fat stock sale at the 1962 Porterville fair, with fat steers going at 38.3 cents; lambs at 45 cents, and barrows at 37 cents.

Less Guthrie's grand champion steer brought 85 cents; Vic Child's grand champion lamb brought $2.50, and his grand champion barrow, $1.50. Sale total was $33,500 for 207 fat animals sold.

TAKING RIBBONS in the commercial exhibits division of the Porterville fair were the above booths, from top: Dick and Irma's; the Mexican Catholic organization; and G & W Chevrolet. (Farm Tribune photos)

WELL ORGANIZED, and creating increasing interest each year, is the open livestock judging event, in which youngsters and oldsters of the community set up teams to judge classes of livestock for points and prizes. Of course we won't mention it, but the winning judging team — Vandalia 4-H, and the second-place team, Porterville Breakfast Lions club — were coached by Bill Reece.

SO ANOTHER fair has gone by — the 15th. It was a good one from many standpoints; directors will compare notes when they meet in the near future, to try to improve those areas in which weaknesses developed, and to make the good things about the fair even better, come 1963.

CHAPEL CHIMES

Rev. N. J.

God often uses strange messengers to do His work. There are the fascinating stories of Samson and the 300 foxes (Judges 15), the fish with the silver coin in its mouth (Matthew 17:27) the ravens that carried steaks and bread to Elijah daily via air express, and Balaam's burro that God caused to talk back to her master.

There is also the delightful story of an infidel who attended an open-air meeting of the great evangelist George Whitfield. He wanted to see what went on, but was determined not to hear one word of the preaching. So he climbed a tree close to the speaker, and plugged both ears with his fingers.

Presently a pesky fly landed on his nose, then started crawling down his neck. His hand left one ear to swat the annoying insect. In that precise moment he heard the preacher say, "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear!" Since the infidel was doing his best to close his ears, he thought this was a very queer coincidence.

Again the persistent fly was back. Now the man was amazed to hear the preacher say, "They stopped their ears, that they should not hear." Why, that was exactly what he was doing!

Finally he heard Mr. Whitefield quote, "Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not answer: so they cried, and I would not hear, saith the Lord of hosts" (Zechariah 7:13).

That little fly did its work well. The infidel was so impressed by what he heard, he bought a Bible — to check up on the preacher! He soon found the Bible was also a strange messenger of God—with a message for him.

them back at the end of the show, disguised as Mexican dandies, and got off the final blast of the fair. (Edwards Studio photos)

SALUTE TO AGRICULTURE — presented each night at the 1962 Porterville fair, with narration, 10-foot square, colored photo slides taken and shown by Jeff Edwards, of Edwards studio, and a real salute — a blast from the Confederate cannon named by the Porterville Breakfast Lions, tied in with special agri-business week in Porterville, sponsored by the Merchants' committee of the Porterville chamber of commerce. Top photo shows the cannon salute, with a capacity night-show crowd in the background. At right is Gene "Doc Small" Duncan last year's Centennial character, and battery surgeon for the cannon crew, who had his break-away pants ready to be torn off by the cannon blast on the final night of fair. Doc did his part, the pants flew off, but the cannon failed to fire. So there was Doc, pantless, in front of 2,500 amazed spectators. But just as the salute to agriculture was the noisiest in the world on the first two nights, it was, on the final night, the world's most quiet salute. Colonel Natze, however, managed to rally his demoralized troops, and brought
